

Idris Shelby Biography

Candidate for Tulsa County Commissioner, District 1

Idris Shelby is a proven leader, healthcare executive, educator, and Air Force veteran committed to bringing strong leadership, accountability, and common-sense solutions to Tulsa County government. With more than two decades of experience spanning healthcare administration, business management, education, and information technology, Idris has built a career focused on serving people, managing resources responsibly, and improving organizational efficiency.

Currently serving as a Clinical Liaison for Encompass Health, an affiliate of St. John's Ascension, Idris works directly with patients, families, and healthcare providers while coordinating care, managing relationships, and helping improve healthcare access throughout the community. In addition to his healthcare leadership experience, Idris previously owned and operated Rocket Transportation LLC, where he oversaw multi-state transportation operations, regulatory compliance, budgeting, and logistics management before successfully selling the company.

Previously, Idris served as Director of Rehabilitation for Genesis Healthcare and Rehabilitation in Collinsville, where he managed a multi-million-dollar budget, improved operational efficiency, and worked closely with medical staff and leadership teams to deliver quality patient care. His leadership helped maintain high organizational productivity while contributing significantly to the facility's financial success.

In addition to his professional experience, Idris has dedicated time to educating future healthcare professionals as an instructor at Brown Mackie College, teaching courses in healthcare law, anatomy, geriatrics, clinical management, and rehabilitation sciences.

Idris proudly served in the United States Air Force in avionics, where he developed the discipline, technical expertise, and mission-focused mindset that continue to guide his leadership today. He holds multiple degrees, including a Master of Business Administration in Healthcare Administration from South University, graduating with High Honors, and has pursued doctoral studies in Christian Education and Leadership at Liberty University.

A man of faith and service, Idris has volunteered extensively with outreach ministries, youth programs, recovery ministries, and community organizations throughout the Tulsa area.

As the Republican candidate for Tulsa County Commissioner District 1, Idris Shelby is running to bring fiscal responsibility, servant leadership, transparency, and practical problem-solving to county government. He believes Tulsa County deserves leadership that prioritizes infrastructure, public safety, responsible budgeting, and strong community partnerships while protecting the conservative values that make Oklahoma strong.
